The importance of custom fitting...

I custom fitted Johan Fourie, one of a newish full members, with the new Srixon 585 irons just before the end of December. Not only has Johan improved his scoring but he is enjoying his golf now more than ever.

The reason I am telling you this is because if you are still playing your golf without being custom fitted you are probably leaving at least 5 shots out on the golf course.

Imagine you are 6 foot tall and walk into a suit shop. There is no way you are just going to buy a set off the shelf. Well exactly the same applies to your golf clubs.

If you would like to have your equipment custom fitted please call us on (012)654-2111 and we guarantee that you will enjoy your game even more!

2019 Rule Changes and Maximum Score on a Hole!

This note from Handicaps Network Africa is important for you to be aware of: -

As per the GolfRSA Handicap Manual, the current South African Handicap Rule on the Maximum Score allowed on a hole for handicap purposes is as follows:

"The maximum score on a hole for handicap score entry is 2 over par, except if a player has two handicap strokes on a hole in which case the maximum score allowed for that hole is 3 over par."

The new Rules of Golf, effective 1 January 2019, recommends for stroke play competitions:

A player's score for each hole is capped at a maximum set by the Committee, which may be fixed (such as 6, 8, 10, etc), relative to par (such as two times par or triple bogey), or related to the player's handicap (such as net double bogey). A player who does not complete a hole (often referred to informally as "picking up") will not be disqualified, but simply gets the maximum score for the hole.

The World Handicap System is only set to be introduced globally on 1 January 2020 and will specify the maximum score on a hole to be Net Double Bogey (net two over par, zero Stableford points).

Until then, there is no change to the maximum score allowed on a hole in South Africa.

Revealing the lie

It does impact accuracy

Test after test conducted by golf magazines, club fitters, and even those trying to "bust" myths, substantiates the fact that you'll hit more accurate approach shots if your lie angle is a perfect match to your golf swing.

Iron's toe down

Strike the ball with the toe slightly down and your ball will go right of the target (right-handers).

Iron heel down

Strike the ball with heel down and your ball will travel left of the target (right-handers).

The mechanics of this are obvious really. Make contact with the turf with the toe of the club and the club face will open. Make contact with the heel and the face closes. It's how imperceptible it feels to most of us, and how large the impact is, that surprises everyone.

Are your clubs telling a lie?

Do you think you've hit a solid shot but missed on one side? Is it your setup; your swing path and face angle; or your lie angle? You'd be blown away to discover how many golfers play with a lie angle that makes the game harder. Make it easier to hit better golf shots.

The best for you

An improvement changing your game

If you want to go from experiencing an average golf game to a better golf game, where you take more frustration-free walks down fairways and then step with an excited bounce towards a green full of opportunity after a sweet approach shot:

Then often a small change, from steering the golf ball to releasing the clubhead through the golf ball, results in:

*Certainly extra distance.
More than you might imagine. A surprise to everyone you play with.*

Definitely straighter tee shots and approach shots. More fairways from the tee. More greens on approach.

*More solid, more consistent ball striking.
More satisfaction at the end of every round.*

*Forget winning. Forget trophies. Hitting better golf shots makes the whole world a better, happier place.
Golf should be the therapy for life!*

Get a better experience

What would cause you to smile more often on the golf course? What would give you cause for celebration?
If "greater consistency" of ball striking will help deliver a smile or celebration,
