Club Champs - Round 1 Re-Cap

We couldn't have asked for better weather for the first round of Club Champs on Saturday. There was a breeze which caught a few off-guard and no one shot under par.

Ernest Ludick is leading the Men on 72 gross, after dropping a shot on the last hole. Brent Goddard is second on 73 and then there is a three-way tie for third between Robin Ashby, Corne Basson and Pieter Muller on 74. Sallie Herbst is leading the Men's B-Division on 79 gross; Albano Dos Santos is leading the C-Division on 35pts and Heidi van der Berg is leading the Ladies on a gross of 81.

Watch Ian asking Ernest about his round & then you can check out all the first round results here.

Here is the Draw for the Second Round on Saturday - we are looking forward to see

For the birders..

From Neil Ebedes – Bronze Mannikin - This tiny bird (9cm - even smaller than the Prinia) is found in flocks in the grasses behind the 15th green. They 'swarm' in the grass and if disturbed, into the nearest tree. This area is ideal because of the seeds. They are also found in gardens and parks.

Everyone wants forgiveness

"Game improvement" means exactly that

Most golfers who have an 8 – 15 handicap are fairly good ball strikers. If that's you, then our guess is your approach shots can be frustrating. Sometimes you're all over the flag. Other times you're short and possibly right. Take advantage of technology to improve your consistency.

Larger profile

Longer clubheads with larger hitting zones and stability means the head doesn't twist on the toe-and-heel shots, which means more consistent and accurate shots.

Thinner, faster faces

Yes, it means more distance, but crucially this also speeds the flex across a larger area of the face, delivering the added consistency that means you don't come up short as often.

Lighter shafts

Many game improvement models will come with lighter shafts. The club is easier to control. It's also easier to swing faster.

Some offset

A little offset makes it easier to square the face at impact. You're on target more often.

If you're in the 10 – 18 handicap range then you should be looking for a model that brings you more greens hit with your #8, #7 and #6 irons. Consistency from this range lowers your score and drops your handicap. It also makes the game a lot more lowers your score and drops your handicap. It also makes the game a lot more rewarding.

Improve your approach shots

Remember that inconsistency of ball striking can be (and often is) a consequence of irons that have the wrong lie angle/shaft length for you. Get that right with some technology that improves the consistency of strike, and golf becomes a great game.

Want SPIN?
Then shallow is BETTER.

The reason you now see so many Professionals hitting lower flighted, higher spinning wedge shots is that they've learned so much from launch monitor data. That data has blown away some myths.

MYTHS

"If you want more spin with your wedge then you hit down on the ball with a steeper angle of attack taking a big divot."

"More spin is created with a shallow angle of attack that 'bruises' the turf."

FACTS

We have learned that more spin is created by a higher spin loft (the gap between the dynamic loft and angle of attack) UP TO A POINT.

Spin actually declines once you go beyond a certain spin loft.

You can learn this shot

The right set up, with the right angle of attack, and the hands in the right position at impact and you can be hitting lower, high-spinning wedge shots that land, bounce and reverse. You'll find it easier to be more accurate. It's time to learn a new skill.
