Practice with Purpose

It's been great to see a host of members taking Elsabe and Justin up on their new Practice Club. Sally Stiles came into the golf shop on the weekend to say how much the short game practice had helped her – she had 41 points in Saturdays' Competition!

There are still two chances this month to improve on your chipping & bunker play. Keep an eye out for the April session and don't miss out!

Your fitting survey

Could this be made easier for you?

We want to know how we can help you enjoy a better playing experience this year.

We're not selling equipment or a fitting. We want to supply a better playing experience.

What do you need? If you haven't completed our survey in the last couple of weeks, then

*This is where the game happens.
Is there a better feeling than a sweet mid-iron shot, that flies high and true, and lands and stops?*

You're an individual. When it comes to equipment, you are indeed one in a thousand. But the right option, the right technology, and a better technique make an approach shot, a moment of joy.

Fill in your survey

That's why we'd like you to complete this survey and let us know what's most important to you and your playing experience.

The Par 3 Advantage

Tee up the ball

It's an advantage to be able to tee the ball up, even if you're using an iron. It's the opportunity to create the perfect lie, but this is what we see too often.

This ball is teed up too high for an iron shot. This risks the ball hitting high on the face of an iron. There's a real loss of distance above the sweet spot on an iron. Below is a perfect example. The ball appears to be resting on the top of the blades of grass. Don't try and play the ball on the up. It's an approach shot from a perfect lie.

Find time to practice and make sure you're playing the shot with the correct technique. Build your confidence.

Make Par 3 improvement a priority

Good technique and some practice breeds confidence. Good technique, practice, and confidence lower your scores. It also thrills you with better approach shots. We can help.
