We could all do with some good news, so here it is...

Stars of the week

A huge congratulations to 13-year-old Lea van der Merwe who had a wire-to-wire win in the B-Division of the SA Amateur at Royal Johannesburg & Kensington this week.

She finished on 29-over par, winning by seven shots over Waterkloof's Kaylee Webster.

The top four in the B-Division were all from Tshwane, with Centurion's Lourenda Steyn finishing third on 43-over, and Lea's twin sister Ame finishing fourth on 44-over.

Congratulations – we are so proud of you both!

Here is Lea in action:

Smallest club. Biggest impact

Nothing but cup

Putts inside 4 feet are either confidence building or rhythm destroying. There's no in between. Squaring the face at impact is especially important on these putts. The good news is that with a fitting, you can hole a lot more of them. We'll need to address a few aspects of your putting.

Face Facts

Did you know, the face angle of your putter at contact influences the launch angle of your putt by up to 95%?

Get fitted

If you putt with a stronger arc, we'll get you to try some toe-hang putters.

If you have a straighter back-and-through stroke with very little arc, you should try a face-balanced putter.

Lie angles that raise the toe or heel of your putter make it a lot more difficult to find the middle of the face, reducing your distance control and accuracy.

We'll also need to check that your grip is allowing you to get your chest and shoulders into the best positions during your stroke.

How did that one miss?

Start your putts on line, with a square face, and you'll reduce those surprise misses. A putting assessment and fitting will make it a lot easier for you to square the face.

Your perfect playing partner

Your golf ball is with you from tee to green. And if you've got a moderate swing speed, you need added distance on longer shots and softer feel on shorter shots. The low compression Srixon Q-STAR TOUR could be your perfect playing partner.

A golfing life

Great social experiences

Research tells us that work pressure, business travel and smartphones are dramatically reducing the amount of time we invest in social interaction.

The same research correlates that decline with the increase in stress, tension and depression.

Play more golf. Make more friends. Take part in more social events. Hitting golf balls with friends who enjoy the moment with you, is living. You should be living.

If you're struggling to find someone to play golf with at a particular time, then get hold of us and we'll make some introductions.

If you're not getting as much enjoyment as you could from the game, you don't have to just grin and bear it. Make an improvement. We can help.

A healthier, happier you

Golf can be a positive force in your life, helping you stay healthy while giving you many enjoyable experiences along the way.

Let's play

Fairway shots can be easier

Hitting fairway woods off the deck can be tricky, but once you're able to, you open up a new world of scoring opportunities. Experience that world with the new Cleveland Launcher XL HALO Fairway.
