Let us help you play better golf

This month Adam Lowther will aim to help you Break 100.

This week he advises you on playing “bite-sized” golf. Playing more carefully will enable you to limit making the big numbers that will prevent you from breaking 100.

Adam Lowther is an Assistant Teaching Professional at Zwartkop.

Contact Adam on 074 747 2030 / adaml@zwartkopcc.co.za.

Get your body and golf in sync

Ask Justin Godfrey how he can help you get the most out of your golf.

He is Level 1 Titleist Performance Institute (TPI) certified, and is able to improve your golf through a combination of TPI and golf exercises, especially if there is an underlying weakness in your body which is affecting your golf swing.

Contact Justin on 082-925-0236 details.

Introduce her to golf

A new skill to master

The social connections and fun of golf are major drawcards for women taking up the game, but there's also a new skill to master and to draw confidence from.

Great for CONFIDENCE

So much FUN

Let us know

If you know a woman who you think could enjoy the health, lifestyle, social and fun benefits of golf, please introduce them to us. Or let them know we've got great coaches and fun introductory programmes.

We want you to feel confident and excited every time you pull your driver. We want you to go further and straighter. Splitting the fairway can become your stock tee shot.

Break 100

Break it down

You're 150 metres out for your fourth shot on a par 5: Do you pull out your hybrid and go for the green? Or, do you take a comfortable #7 to within 40 metres and pitch it onto the green? If you're trying to break 100, the latter approach is the one to go with.

Play bitesize golf

Sticking with our par 5 example; instead of constricting yourself to what the course dictates (a drive, wood and iron), you could go with driver, hybrid, two irons and a wedge. You'd be on the green with a bogey putt. A two-putt from there to finish with double bogey still puts you on track to break 100. Remember, 9 bogeys and 9 double bogeys gets you to 99.

| Break it down to break 100

The difference between 100 and 99 is only one shot, but carding that double-figure final score for the first time is an exciting and significant moment. Start your journey out of the triple-figures and into the 90s.
