Unlock extra distance

Let's find your launch zone

Driver hitting zones have become larger to better forgive off-centre strikes. But there's an even more important zone that affects your distance. It's the one at which launch angle and spin rate are just right for YOUR swing speed.

Should you be launching it higher or lower? Let's find out.

Let's find out

Faster swings generally require a lower launch angle with less spin while slower swings are generally better off with a higher launch and more spin to keep the ball airborne for longer.

| No metre untapped

When we know your swing and launch characteristics, we can set you up with a loft and shaft that helps you generate just the right amount of spin and launch. Get every metre you're capable of.

New year, new game

Less is more

Too many putts can be the difference between a memorable round and one to forget. When it comes to putting, less is more. And if you want to shave strokes and have more fun on the greens, we'll need to start with some key basics.

This way to fewer putts

According to the USGA, the average golfer takes 2.2 putts per green. If you improve upon that by just 10%, you're saving about four strokes per round!

Is there a distance you find trickier than others? Close range? Lag putting? The beauty is that many of the same basics apply, like keeping your head still and following through on your intended line.

Lacking the basics of putting is more common than you might think, and it could be the root cause of your struggles.

Your best year ever

Nail the basics and make this your best golfing year ever!
