Zwartkop's Changes

Dale reports...

Zwartkop is going to be my second experience of a 9-hole golf course as we owned the beautiful Cullinan in the late 90's.

South Africa has many amazing 9-hole courses such as Mooi Nooi, Metropolitan, Bosch Hoek and Gowrie Farms (which is soon to be 18-holes), amongst many others.

In today's busy world, we believe there is a market for a 2-hour, 9-hole round of golf. It can be played before work, over a lunch break and after work before it gets dark.

What Gowrie Farms did incredibly well was to make the two nines very different. This can obviously only be done if you have sufficient ground. At Zwartkop we are going to have to be creative. During winter we will be adding new tees to alter the length, and sometimes the angle of the holes, and then also adding onto the size of three greens which will allow us to place two pins on them – so you play to a different pin on each nine.

Most golfers aren't able to hit their tee shots into the exact spot the second time around, so already your approach shot will be different. By adding the tees and greens we hope to offer a golf experience that has enough variety.

The Temporary Handicap Conversion tables from Golf RSA were put in place on Friday morning already (they are up in the golf shop) and although we had a few teething problems on Saturday with the quick change over from 18- to 9-holes, we are on it, and will do our best to ensure you have a Perfect Day for Golf at Zwartkop this weekend!

Once the course changes are made the course will have to be re-rated, but that will obviously only happen in a few month's time.

The 18th green is now open for you to use for chipping, putting and bunker practice - enjoy!
