From the Club

Club Champs

The draw for the first round of Club Champs is now available – click here.

Please remember that we will use MyHomeClub for live scoring for this weekend, so make sure you have the app downloaded to stay in touch. The draw for the second round will be posted on the App and home page of the website.

Here are some last minute tips to make sure you show up ready to play your best: -

1. Have a substantial breakfast – preferably not greasy which is harder for your body to digest!
2. Get to the Club early so you have plenty of time to get your bag organised and get yourself checked in
3. Go to the range for a short warm-up to loosen up your muscles and get focused – watch Duane's video below for an idea on what to do at the range
4. Move to the putting green and hit mostly shortish putts that will build up your confidence but also give you the feel for the greens
5. Get to the tee with plenty of time to spare.

Good luck everyone – we hope you have a fantastic weekend and most of all – have great fun!

Come on down for a drink, listen to some live music and the draw gets done at 18h30.

Your best angle

Lie angle and true accuracy

Iron fittings aren't just about shaft weight or flex. The accuracy gains you get from playing with the correct lie angle can be the difference between successfully setting up a birdie bid or scrambling for par.

Find your unique angles

"Lie angle" is the angle formed between your club's hosel and the ground when in the address position.

As is often the case in golf, small margins can make a big difference. A club with a lie angle that's just one degree too upright or too flat for your swing and physique can mean you miss your target by four metres or more!

Angled for accuracy

We're all built differently and we all swing the club differently. Let's find the ideal lie angle that fits you so you can hit more greens and enjoy more birdie bids.

Reasons to stay

Step it out

Walking 9 or 18 holes isn't just a great way to experience the game, but an ideal way to make positive physical health strides.

All-round benefits

Many people fixate over the number of steps they take each day, and with good reason. Walking helps lower your blood pressure and is an easy way of keeping your weight in check. While you stride the fairways with your friends in the fresh air and sunshine, you're killing two birds with one stone – keeping a handle on your golf game and your health.
