From the Club

What can you do on Trackman?

Hitting shots on the Trackman Range will allow you to track ball carry, distance, ball speed, ball height and launch angle and so much more.

Trackman is your ideal partner in golf practice, plus you get to play games (which are not only fun but also hone your skills) and you can play virtual courses from around the World.

We're starting to get excited and hope you are too!

If you want to be able to engage with the system properly you should download the Trackman app and set up a profile for yourself. That will allow you to record all your shot data and stats so that you can review them later. More details on that will follow later.

You can download the App here:

Star of the Week...

Well done to Paul Nel who won last week's raffle for a Ping G430 Fairway Wood valued at R7400!

You can watch the draw here so you know it was done fairly.

Fitting you for distance

Flex for distance gains

Game a shaft that takes you further!

Your clubhead speed is a significant determinant of the shaft flex you play as it affects your ability to square the face at impact, giving you the best combination of distance and accuracy.

The impact of flex

If your shaft is too stiff for your swing speed, the driver face tends to stay open at impact and you're more likely to launch the ball on a lower, slightly faded trajectory; a real distance-sapping combination.

A shaft that's too light and whippy can cause you to generate excessive spin that drags your shot off line and into a ballooning trajectory that also saps distance.

The good news is that whatever your swing speed, there are many different shaft options with varying weights, flexes and kick points that we can test to find the one that'll send your tee shots further.

Find your flex

Make sure you're playing with a driver shaft that gives you every yard of distance and accuracy you're capable of.

Let's find your Z-STAR

Whether you prioritise feel and spin, or distance and speed, or all of the above, there's a Z-STAR Golf Ball that's going to help you reach your full potential. All we need to do is decide which one suits you best.

Tricky lies

Practice helps

You should always try and make practice both fun and purposeful. And who wants to practise the most difficult shots?

There's a fun way to practise your ability to escape difficult lies. Find a partner. Go to the short-game practice area. Taking it in turns, choose a difficult lie in the bunker or in the rough (try and find slopes), and then challenge them to get up and down.

Join our masterclass

By combining technical know-how with this playful approach, we'll help you get a lot more comfortable playing from uncomfortable lies.
