From the club

Why do we hollowtine?

We know... Just when the course is looking good, we haul in the hollowtine machine and fill the greens with holes.

Unfortunately this is a vital part of the course's annual maintenance as greens become compacted and hard over time, which makes drainage less efficient, and the grass's roots are prevented from absorbing oxygen. Hollow-tining allows the turf to expand and air and moisture to be more easily absorbed. In effect, it de-thatches the greens and allows for the exchange of poor soil for better soil through top dressing.

It's done at this time of the year because the bent grass is at its peak and poa annua, which we have a lot of, is at its weakest. So this is a good time to encourage more bent grass growth on our greens.

Grab a buddy and join in the fun competition on Thursday:
