From the Club

Floris de Klerk has a new pair of FootJoy shoes thanks to yesterday's Shoet-Out

It was great fun with four teams put together by Chris Delport, Dale Michler, Joseph Phiri and Brent Goddard and the Golf Management Campus.

All four teams teed off together on the 1st hole, with the player holding the highest nett score dropping out after each hole.

The challenge continued until we were left with one man standing in each team - Joseph Phiri, Floris de Klerk, Connor Thomas, and Matthew Kitshoff. These four then faced off in a chip-shot shootout to the 9th green, where Floris emerged victorious, claiming a brand-new pair of FootJoy shoes.

Star of the Week

Congrats to our 2025 Ladies Club Champion, Monique Fourie, from Centurion High School, who won the inaugural Afrikaans High School for Girls Open Schools Golf Tournament. Forty-five players from across the country teed up in the event and the winner received a pink jacket.

It's R2000 per 4-ball which includes green fees, halfway house and prize giving supper after play.

Make THE MOST?

Even if you can only squeeze in 9 holes at the start or end of the day, how many of the following reasons to play golf do you tick off?

Shorter format 9-hole golf offers you the social, outdoor time away from the ubiquitous digital connection that we all need for our well-being.

And you can play your own game. It might be a little non-standard, but every hole can start between 200 and 150 metres to challenge your approach shots. Or every hole can be within 100 metres to test your scoring zone ability. Or you can play with a partner who is learning. You play from 150 metres, they play from 40 metres. You're both trying to go lower than 36.

Don't miss out

Do not miss out on the chance to play golf. Don't miss out on the chance to connect. Don't miss out on the chance to enjoy yourself. If you'd like some help to get out and play or would like golfing partners interested in the non-traditional, then
